SYT, the Future comes from the 19th Century.

DESIGN FRANCESCO GERACI

Take a seat. Abandon yourself to the voyage between past and future. Runs and reruns... SYT, small armchair as a careful and respectful rereading of the original design concept of the past; it plays on a simple and captivating line. Clearly inspired by 19th century artisanal tradition, it unites the graphic language of classic lines with that of soft rounded forms. Research into ergonomics and function: if its profile has been ideated to recall traditional aesthetic canons, notable significance is given to material and technology. Unmistakable common thread between memory and modernity, SYT brings a breath of fresh air into any habitat.

Particularly suitable for outdoor application, thanks to the drain hole in the seat that assists in the outflow of rainwater, it is also excellent in interior settings with its strong tendency to contract.

SYT has been realised in rotationally pressed polyethylene (PE), recyclable and resistant to UV rays. Available in the colours: white, ice, anthracite, and orange.

Application: interior or exterior settings.

TALIA, Muse of Comedy and Comfort.

DESIGN FRANCESCO GERACI

From Greek Mythology, the stuffed small armchair that expresses the seductive beauty of the muses, among whom is comedy. The charm of the little stuffed chair, therefore takes the form of TALIA: elegant, soft and comfortable. In its concept, it is clean and essential; its polygonal line rereads the rationalistic aesthetic of the neo-organic language. In its pyramidal volume with the vertex overturned clearly of a Leonardesque composition, TALIA presents a compactness of well-defined volumes with a structure that flows harmoniously along the perimeter of the armchair accommodating the seat on two sides. A project where the proportions, soul of the project, provide an easy reading of the totality and ideal placement in the most varied environments.
